

Implicit Bias Workshops

Assistant Professor at Cal Poly Pomona, Alex Madva will be conducting a series of implicit bias workshops for the University of Nevada, Reno. Dr. Madva's work centers on questions that research in social psychology raises for philosophy of mind, race and feminism, and applied ethics (especially prejudice and discrimination).

Please join us in learning more about how implicit bias affects our day-to-day decisions and strategies to combat implicit bias and respond to discrimination.

Understanding Bias: Causes and Effects of Intergroup Bias in Higher Education

Thursday February 16, 2017

Faculty and Staff Session: 10:00am - 12:00pm (Clark Room, Morrill Hall)

Student Session: 2:00pm - 4:00pm (Clark Room, Morrill Hall)

Overcoming Bias: Individual and Institutional Reforms

Friday, February 17, 2017

Open to All

10:00am - 12:00pm (Clark Room, Morrill Hall)